MVD Deputy Director Vanessa Cantrell retires after 32 years service

ATLANTA—Vanessa Cantrell, Deputy Director of the Georgia Department of Revenue's Motor Vehicle Division, retired effective September 28, 2007.

Ms Cantrell began her career with the MVD in 1975 as a clerk and worked her way up through the ranks. She was named the Division's Deputy Director in August 2001.

"We wish you a long and happy retirement and we thank you for the many years of professional and devoted service you gave to Georgia's citizens and to the Department. You will always be remembered by everyone," Commissioner Bart Graham said in announcing her retirement.

Among the many improvements that occurred during her long tenure with the Department, Ms Cantrell said improved customer service was what she was most proud.

"We now provide customers with same-day service for matters that use to take days," she explained.
